The Gi Plan:

The GI Diet Plan Helen Foster,2005 A framework for a green infrastructure planning approach in the Gauteng City-Region Christina Culwick,Kerry Bobbins, Anton Cartwright, Gregg Oelofse, Myles Mander, Stuart Dunsmore, 2016-09-01 As the population economy and urban built environment in the Gauteng City Region GCR expand government is increasingly under pressure to provide urban infrastructure to support growth It is increasingly important that this infrastructure is sustainable minimising the negative environmental impacts often associated with traditional forms of urban development Green Infrastructure GI is the interconnected set of natural and man made ecological systems green spaces and other landscape features that provide services and strategic functions in the same way as traditional infrastructure In harnessing the benefits of ecosystem services GI has emerged as a more efficient cost effective and sustainable alternative and sometimes accompanying approach to conventional forms of infrastructure Despite international evidence demonstrating how GI can be used as an alternative to or in tandem with traditional infrastructure the GI approach has so far gained only limited traction in the GCR In 2013 the GCRO published the State of Green Infrastructure in the GCR report The report established the principles that underpin GI used available data to map the extent of GI networks in the region assessed to what extent municipalities were aware of and applying a GI approach and demonstrated a possible way to value GI in local government financial systems The conclusions of the State of Green Infrastructure report were used to guide the next phase of GCRO's research in support of the adoption of GI approach a phase focused on better understanding the opportunities for implementing GI in planning and infrastructure development programmes and on addressing some of the challenges associated with shifts towards this approach A framework for a green infrastructure planning approach in the Gauteng City Region GCRO's fourth Research Report builds on the foundations laid in the State of Green Infrastructure report It assembles expert inputs and reflections from collaborative stakeholder discussions in what was known as the Green Infrastructure CityLab to illustrate important considerations for the development of a GI planning approach in the Gauteng City Region GCR The report is divided into three broad sections Part A introduces the theoretical underpinnings of a GI approach and builds an argument for the importance of incorporating GI into planning and infrastructure development in the GCR Part B presents three pieces written by external experts They consider how GI and ecosystem services can be valued by municipalities and how so called grey green infrastructure design solutions can be implemented in the GCR Part C reflects on the stakeholder engagement process that has been undertaken primarily through the GI CityLab to deepen understanding of how GI can be embedded in municipal practice Based on these research findings this report concludes with a strategy for GCRO's next phase of work in its ongoing Green Assets and Infrastructure Project Nature-based solutions for climate change adaptation Andrea Ghermandi, Nalini Rao, Emma Ferranti, Petina Pert, 2025-11-10 Climate change poses complex challenges to the world in the form of extreme weather such as increased precipitation droughts flooding and heat waves These risks

have significant impacts on ecosystems and communities which vary depending on their baseline vulnerability. These include risks to human life, human health, property, infrastructure, ecosystem health, and access to water and energy. Climate change adaptation becomes crucial in adjusting to life under these changing conditions. Some examples of adaptation include integrating robust and flexible operations, modifying infrastructure, managing the timing of engineering activities, capacity building, managing disaster risks, modifying ecosystem or community based approaches, strengthening stakeholders for decision making, designing new financing mechanisms, and using data driven methods to improve resilience. One important area of focus for climate adaptation is Nature based Solutions (NbS). Nature based Solution NbS refers to a suite of activities that integrate natural ecosystems and processes into various systems. The drivers for integration can include increasing efficiency, improving environmental impacts, creating multiple benefits, and reducing resource use. To name a few, NbS activities have been used to upgrade water systems, reduce heat island effects, improve stormwater management, green infrastructure building, and upgrading efforts, and provide multiple benefits to both ecosystems and communities. While NbS is not a novel concept, more research on the conceptual and technical aspects is needed to form a strong foundation from which applications can be designed. Research on the potential of NbS activities for specific climate change adaptation needs could unveil key insights in applicability, measurement, effectiveness, and scalability. The types of research needed to address climate change adaptation through NbS are very wide ranging. The presentation of conceptual frameworks and links between NbS and similar concepts including ecosystem services, ecosystem based adaptation, green infrastructure, and passive treatment is important to articulate and clarify for use and integration in the climate adaptation context. Evaluating the targeted implementation of NbS across landscapes, coastal regions, and watersheds, as well as exploring its applicability in sectors like energy, water, forestry, agriculture, industry, and the public sector, are crucial areas of investigation. Specific analysis of NbS designed to address critical risks such as floods, droughts, hurricanes, and heatwaves could bring insights to different regions around the world. Technical studies encompassing hydrology, pollution control, geospatial analysis, environmental engineering, and economics will offer essential guidance on where and how to implement NbS for climate change adaptation. We invite researchers to explore and analyze the potential of Nature based Solutions NbS for Climate Change Adaptation. We will consider a wide range of approaches from conceptual frameworks to analysis of technical solutions. We encourage authors around the world to submit papers along the following themes: Conceptual frameworks for NbS, Examples of NbS in various ecosystem and regional contexts, Comparative analysis of NbS and traditional solutions, Advanced methods for modeling and estimating NbS outcomes, Spatial and/or temporal issues in NbS implementation, monitoring and modeling Potential of NbS in modifying infrastructure, NbS applications to different sectors and scales (e.g. urban and rural), Scalability and replicability of NbS, Lessons learned and NbS risks for maladaptation, Economic impacts, financing and natural capital accounting, and NbS Potential for self-sustaining funding for NbS.
