Platt, 2015-06-25 Excerpt from The Commercial Code for the German Empire The great advance made by the German Empire in the trade of the world during the last few years seems some reason for offering to such Englishmen as possess no knowledge of the German language a translation of the Code by which that trade is regulated and to whose rules and enactments it is subject It is to the fact of our possessing the greatest share in the worlds trade that we rightly or wrongly ascribe our important position in it For this reason alone the Commercial Code of any nation possessing one is of interest to us more especially of one which like the German Empire is among our keenest rivals in the field of commerce and is becoming every day more and more a manufacturing country About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Notes on the Commercial Code of Japan and the Law Concerning its Operation, Vol. I.
