The Globalization Reader Hardcover:

The Globalization Reader Frank J. Lechner, John Boli, 2008 The third edition of The Globalization Reader makes sense of globalization by conveying its complexity, importance, and contentiousness from diverse vantage points. With its broad coverage of political, economic, cultural, and individual dimensions, this volume provides students with a deeper understanding of the globalization process. It offers a provocative assessment of economic globalization, examines the role of media and religion in cultural globalization, and explores the link between environmentalism and the globalization of social problems. The inclusion of new material on issues such as economic integration, inequality, and Islam helps to make it a comprehensive introduction to globalization studies. Scholars, activists, and organizations look with a critical eye at the many layers and dimensions of globalization. By reviewing the current debates and ongoing research on the topic, readers can better understand and judge the varied consequences of what is likely to be a dominant concern throughout the twenty-first century.

A Modern Economic History of Emerging Markets (1950-2020) Ahmet Akarli, 2024-09-20 This book offers a comprehensive economic history of emerging market economies post WWII and identifies a complex web of sustainability problems that face the EMEs going forward. It seeks to present a truly global perspective on the development of EMEs and the long-term trends that have brought EMEs to a critical economic juncture. The first section of the book charts how EMEs became tightly integrated into the global economy at rapid pace, analysing economic achievements as well as imbalances and sustainability issues that have been generated over time. It considers how EMEs have withstood episodes of complex structural transitions and financial shocks and offers comparative perspectives on patterns of dispersion within the EME landscape from the end of WWII to the present. The second part of the book seeks to understand how EMEs might cope with the volatility brought about by a new age of disruption defined by major structural challenges to the neo-liberal economic order. It considers which EMEs are best positioned to respond to issues of economic inequality, financial excess, technological disruption, and climate change, what a global historical understanding of the EMEs can offer to policymakers, and the impact on the EME investment landscape. This book will be of interest to a broad audience including researchers of economic history and political economy as well as policymakers, investment professionals, and the general reader interested in global economic development.

Markets and

Development Toby Carroll, Darryl Jarvis, 2017-10-02 Markets and Development presents a series of critical contributions focused on the political relationship between citizens civil society and neoliberal development policy's latest form. The dramatic increase of access to finance investments newly gender sensitive approaches to building neoliberal labour markets the universal promotion of public private partnerships and the development financing of extractive industries have all seen citizens social movements and NGOs variously engaged in and against neoliberalism like never before. The precise form that this engagement takes is conditioned by both the perceived and real opportunities and the risks of an agenda which seeks to intern emerging and frontier markets deep within a concretising world market with transformative repercussions for both those involved and notably for state society relations. The contributors to this volume focus on essential aspects of the contemporary neoliberal development agenda and its relationship to and with citizens and civil society tackling questions related to the roles that various actors within civil society in the underdeveloped world are playing under late capitalism and how these roles relate to current efforts to establish and extend markets and market society more broadly in a neoliberal image.
