Writing Sense Juli Kendall,Outey Khuon,2006 Writing is all about making meaning The prospect of teaching writing to a classroom full of students some who speak English and some who don't can be overwhelming. When students learning English are at different levels the task is even more challenging. Writing Sense Integrated Reading and Writing Lessons for English Language Learners outlines the classroom conditions necessary for successful writing instruction with English language learners whether in writing workshop and/or small group instruction. It includes 68 classroom tested lessons for grades K-8 that show kids at all levels of language acquisition how to make connections, ask questions, visualize, make mental images, infer, determine importance, synthesize, monitor meaning and comprehension, and use fix up strategies. The five main sections are geared to the stages of language proficiency and lessons are divided into younger and older students spanning kindergarten through to grade eight. There are extensive lists of suggested books for mentor texts as well as lists of mentor authors to facilitate teachers planning and instruction.

Critical Approaches to Food in Children's Literature Kara K.

Keeling, Scott T. Pollard, 2012-03-20. Critical Approaches to Food in Children's Literature is the first scholarly volume on the topic connecting children's literature to the burgeoning discipline of food studies. Following the lead of historians like Mark Kurlansky, Jeffrey Pilcher, and Massimo Montanari who use food as a fundamental node for understanding history, the essays in this volume present food as a multivalent signifier in children's literature and make a strong argument for its central place in literature and literary theory. Written by some of the most respected scholars in the field, the essays between these covers tackle texts from the nineteenth century Rudyard Kipling's Kim to the contemporary Dave Pilkey's Captain Underpants series, the U.S. multicultural Asian American to the international Ireland, Brazil, Mexico. Spanning genres such as picture books, chapter books, popular media, and children's cookbooks, contributors utilize a variety of approaches including archival research, cultural studies, formalism, gender studies, postcolonialism, poststructuralism, race studies, structuralism, and theology. Innovative and wide ranging, Critical Approaches to Food in Children's Literature provides us with a critical opportunity to puzzle out the significance of food in children's literature.

Books on Wheels Janice McArthur, Barbara

McGuire, 1998-08-15. Get books moving off the library shelves and into the hands of children with this integrated package for thematic instruction. Sixteen chapters based on such lively themes as Risky Reading, adventure stories, Horrendous Fun, monster stories, and Book Line and Sinker ocean world contain introductions to the themes, introductory activities, booktalks, annotated bibliographies, and reproducible activity pages that extend learning across the curriculum. Activities are coded by grade level. A valuable tool for cooperative planning between librarians and teachers, this book helps librarians choose, present, and promote book titles appropriate to specific themes. It also helps teachers plan corresponding activities. Grades K-3.
