Before the couple go on a romantic weekend trip, Morgan attends an appointment with her neurologist, Dr. Koftura, who has monitored her since an accident she had when she was seven years old. Morgan has a history of sabotaging her romantic relationships, and the Doctor is concerned that she is following the same patterns with Justin. On the day of their trip, Justin's behaviour became erratic, and he runs the car off the road into a tree, killing himself and hurting Morgan. When she awakens in the hospital to find that Justin is dead, Morgan has little time to grapple with this loss before detectives arrive to question her about the accident. When it becomes clear that the detectives believe Morgan was responsible for the accident, Morgan must prove her innocence. But can she really trust her own mind?

Consent Lizzie Greenaway, 2021

Sometimes the men we think we can trust are the ones we really shouldn't trust at all. When the lines of consent are blurred, how do you ever know who is telling the truth? Was it a night of drunken passion or a night of terror? Molly Smith doesn't know. Jacob Walker Kent did not attack her. He did not lure her down a dark alleyway. He did not beat her up. She did not scream. She did not fight him off. He walked her home. He was her friend. Or was he? When the courts fail to protect us, sometimes there is so much more.
