A ROADMAP FOR BOOTSTRAPPING ENTREPRENEURS Donald Stern, 2021-09-09

We hear every day about the flashy twenty five year old wunderkinds who have hit it big in the tech world and celebrated CEOs who have flourished in public companies. But we rarely hear about the majority of successful men and women who at the average age of forty one start their own company. He was forty when he founded Homax Corporation in 1981. He is an award winning entrepreneur who would like to share what he has learned in business and life with others. With 25 000 of his own money and a 250 000 loan from the bank secured by everything they owned he was all in with a wife and two young children. He sold his company in 1996 that was thoughtfully structured to be sustainable for those who helped him be successful. Talented management continued growing the company. Homax is now owned by PPG. The sale met his goal to retire comfortably at the age of fifty five with money and time left to acquire new skills and pursue other adventures. How Hard Can It Be: How I Found Success through Intention, Integrity and 75 in My Pocket is a 67 000 word book that echoes the words of St Francis of Assisi. Start by doing what is necessary then what is possible and suddenly you are doing the impossible. His story shows young entrepreneurs how to plot their course to succeed in business and life by building cultures with good character while simultaneously growing themselves. It also speaks to the middle aged start up entrepreneur about how to assess risk and how to focus their courage to begin. His personal story is eclectic. He left home at the age of nineteen with 75 and a used car. Much of his book includes anecdotes some funny some quite serious that help frame my message. They are intertwined with his personal stories about racing cars, windsurfing, heli skiing and piloting high performance aircraft and he uses these kinds of experiences to punctuate a point. In spite of facing a new normal the basic principles he describes in his book remain

Wise Practices Robert Hamilton,John Borrow, Brent Mainprize,Ryan Beaton,Joshua Ben David Nichols,2021-10-01 Indigenous peoples in Canada are striving for greater economic prosperity and political self determination Investigating specific legal economic and political practices and including research from interviews with Indigenous political and business leaders this collection seeks to provide insights grounded in lived experience Covering such critical topics as economic justice and self determination and the barriers faced in pursuing each Wise Practices sets out to understand the issues not in terms of sweeping empirical findings but through particular experiences of individuals and communities The choice to focus on specific practices of law and governance is a conscious rejection of idealized theorizing about law and governance and represents an important step beyond the existing scholarship This volume offers readers a broad scope of perspectives incorporating contemporary thought on Indigenous law and legal orders the impact of state law on Indigenous peoples theories and practices of economic development and grounded practices of governances While the authors address a range of topics each does so in a way that sheds light on how Indigenous practices of law and governance support the social and economic development of Indigenous peoples
