Science Fiction and the Historical Novel Ian P. MacDonald,Kate Polak,2024-09-16 If you woke to realize that you could rewrite your yesterday without knowing the kind of tomorrow it would grant you would you do it Are the authors of our destiny working with an outline or spit balling confusing plotlines Since the past changes possible futures to what alighting butterfly should we pay the most heed This book explores the liminal space between speculative fiction and the historical novel Staged as a transnational multicultural conversation it takes up a call originally made by Fredric Jameson in Archaeologies of the Future wherein he describes that flashpoint between speculative and historical genres as the symptom of a mutation in our relationship to historical time itself Drawing together postcolonial feminist cultural Indigenous and cognitive approaches Science Fiction and the Historical Novel asks what the past can offer a future oriented world and how the future can be imagined in relation to a past that seeks narratives of inevitability rather than possibility Engaged with the idea of the past as a model for the future authors in this volume probe the extent to which historical scripts delimit possibilities and how authors engaged with the practice of alternative pasts rewrite potentialities in the present
